Doll Sale.

December 15 and 16, is the date selected by the C. W. B. M., for the Annual Doll Sale. Orders taken. Don't forget the date

Sale.

John Magee bought R. G. Ward's property, on Lexington avenue. The deal was made through Hughes and Swinebroad, real estate agents.

Bazaar.

The Presbyterian Missionary Society
and Christian Endeavor will have a Bazaar, consisting of fancy articles and home made candy, on December 2.

Come in if you want the best work
Go to the best place to get your razors honed or shears sharpened. We have fitted up our shop, new from bottom

Lecture.

The W. C. T. U. realized about $50 on the lecture of George W. Bain last Friday night. The lecture was beyond the ordinary, being highly instructive
and entertaining.

Farmer's Attention.

The impression is out that I can't write farm property, which is a mistake. Call at my office at National Bank and get my figures before renewing.
J H Kinnaird.

Tobacco Show.

I will give a ton of coal to the farmer bringing me the best five pounds of bright leaf Burley Tobacco, by Saturday, December 2nd, on which day the premium will be awarded, by competent judges
J. A. Jones.

Democratic Speaking.

Hons. R H Tomlinson and James I
Hamilton spoke at Odd Fellows Hall, Paint Lick, last Saturday night in behalf of the Democratic county ticket.
Considerable interest was manifested,
and much enthusiasm was aroused.

Prompt Settlement.

G. B. Swinebroad, agent for the Continental Insurance Company, reports that his company settled in full with Mrs Lizzie Rice whose house and contents were lost by fire, the settlement being made within a week from the time of the fire. Insurance $1,500

Three Good Ones.

J. A. Beazley showed us a June apple, which he says grew this month, being a second growth. Mr W G Anderson has some nice young raddishes,
and G B Swinebroad says that his cow turns the hydrant and gets a drink
when she wants it. These three items are run together because they are out of the ordinary.

Just as a traveling man was writing
his name on the register of a Mayfield hotel, a bed bug appeared and took its way across the page. The man paused and remarked: "I've been bitten by Paducah fleas bitten by Fulton spiders
and interviewed by Hopkinsville gray backs, but I'll be darned if I ever was in a place before where the bed bugs looked over the hotel register to find out where your room was."

Florida Trip at Small Cost.

Dan. M. Bowmar, editor of The Sun,
Versailles, will conduct a ten days,
Florida tour, leaving Cincinnati and Louisville via Q. & C. and Southern Ry.
Tuesday, Nov. 14. Jacksonville, St.
Augustine, Indian River, Palm Beach,
Miami and trip up St. John's River.
$44.50 pays all expenses ten days trip.
Six days' tour $37.50. Write Dan. M.
Bowmar, Versailles, Ky.

Editor Still Disabled.

The Record was a little premature
in announcing the return of Ed'o Louis Landram as he will not be able to return for several days. He has been unable to work for more than six months, the past seven weeks having been spent in Dr Elkin's sanitarium in Atlanta. His friends will be glad, however, to know that he will soon be well and able to return to his post of duty in this office.

Improvements.

Considerable work is being done on the L & N. Railroad Depot. The waiting rooms and the ticket office are being lowered to a ground floor, making them much more accessible. This obviates the necessity of climbing the steps to get to the office. The freight department will remain as it is, being entirely separated from the passenger department. The rooms will be properly furnished and made much more pleasant and attractive, and a concrete pavement will be built around them. The traveling public and the people generally will appreciate this change, as it will add materially to their comfort.

Important Notice.

Those indebted to The Record for subscription, advertising or job work will confer a great favor by paying same right now. The protracted illness of the editor, and after additional expenses make it very important that our customers send in what they owe. Please don't neglect it.

Don't forget game Foot Ball Friday
November 3rd.

License.

Some people believe that the city council could grant liquor license if they chose to do so. In order that no voter should have this in view or let it in any way control him in casting his vote, we desire to say that the city council of Lancaster has no more power to grant a license to sell liquor than any other six men. The people whom all power resides, voted liquor out and they must petition for an election and vote in favor of selling it before any court or council can grant a license.

A Card.

Editor Record,
It has been reported that the undersigned have been withdrawn from the race for City Council. This is not true. Their names will appear as the "People's Ticket," on the city ballot. Another false report is to the effect that they are pledged to certain men and measures.

They are not pledged to any man or set of men, for any office or any measure. They only pledge themselves to do all in their power for the welfare of the city, and to handle all issues in an honest, business like manner. They are all property holders and their own interest will prompt them to administer the City Government properly.

Wreck.

A train, on the Louisville Southern railroad, was hurled from a bridge into a creek 40 feet below, several days ago. Thirteen passengers were injured, among them Mr Leslie Herndon,
of this city, son of Capt Herndon and mail clerk on that run. He was badly bruised and was taken to the hospital at Lexington. His car was the first to sink with the bridge. Seeing that a wreck was coming he leaped to catch the safety rods, which he fortunately missed as he would have been pinned to the debris and crushed to death or drowned. The next thing he realized was that the car was torn to pieces and he was in the creek. He loosed himself sufficiently to crawl out of the wreckage, and was carried by passengers to a place of safety. It is reported that he fell on his head and that his injuries are more serious than first reported.

City Council.

Some time ago numerous voters petitioned the following gentlemen to run for City Council: J E Stormes, S C Denny, Dr J B Kinnaird, C D Powell, J B Conn and S G Haselden. They will appear on the ballot under the "People's Ticket" and a picture of the Court House.

From the number of signers it appeared to be a favorite ticket, and The Record pledged its support. In fulfilling that pledge we desire to say they are all successful business men, and, being property holders, their interest will be the city's interest. They are honest and capable, and stand for economy and the greatest good to the greatest number. They are opposed to "grafters," and are not pledged to any man for any office.

As we are in need of such men at this time, there would be no mistake
in putting the cross under the Court House, and every body's interest will be as well protected as it would be by the elections of any Council. Good men are running on another ticket, but many think that a race was not necessary.

Golden Wedding.

The meeting of many friends and relatives, residing here and in distant cities, to attend the Golden Wedding of Mr and Mrs W H Wherritt, on Wednesday night, the artistic blending, entwining and commingling of aromatic flowers, through which mellow light penetrated, conspired to make their beautiful home a modern Eden, and to make the occasion one of the most brilliant events in the history of this city.

W H Wherritt and Mary Jane Miller
were married Nov 1, 1855 in the old Miller home now occupied by Mr Tom Wherritt. Two of the brides maids and one of the groomsmen are living but were unable to be present. The bride had two sisters and one brother present, and the groom, one sister and one brother, who were at the first wedding. Of the live children born to them three are living and were present. Together with two grand children. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion; palms, ferns and rubber plants formed a pleasing back ground,
in front of which the happy couple,
together with their three children stood to receive the guests. Smilax entwined the stairway and veiled the doors. The golden draperies, the cut flowers and the candle shades were all typical of the occasion, in yellow.
The friends, of this couple, who are legion, remembered them with many beautiful gifts. Four poems were written in honor of the occasion. The one written by Mrs Potts was printed and framed in gold. Two others were written by former Lancaster friends—Mr Cochran and Mrs Yantis, and the fourth by Misses Wilson, of Lexington.

Words of love and congratulation
were showered upon them from friends and relatives far and near. A hundred guests were present and enjoyed the bounteous collation. A round table in the center of the drawing room held the bride's cake, minis and salted nuts. Candles, in their golden shades and vases of yellow roses lent beauty to the picture. Happy, indeed, must be this couple, for they celebrated a wedding, not only golden in years, but in thought, word and deed.

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Member of Kentucky Press Association
and

Lancaster, Ky., November 3, 1905

In the rush and hurry of the age we do not notice one of the many ways by which the wisdom and the goodness of Jehovah is daily manifested. It is in the universal law of compensation, or in giving an equivalent, in some form, for an advantage possessed in some other form.

For instance, the fertile soil and rich agricultural facilities of this section of the country, appear to be a decided advantage over the mountains, and this is true as to soil. But the rich mineral resources of the mountain or knob country furnish an equivalent for this. Many princely fortunes have been realized from coal, oil and timber where the soil was worthless.

If we consider this question in the commercial world we will find the same theory verified. The millionaire has more money than the laborer, but the laborer may have a good stomach, a clear conscience and contentment, for which some wealthy men would give all their possessions. Take the same theory to the social world, and we see the beautiful face and form, often ignored and a preference given to the homely, who are more modest and unassuming or possessed of a better disposition and nobler traits of character. So the advantages of this world are about equally divided after all and some have talent which makes them famous while others only have talents of gold.

On next Tuesday the people will vote for or select servants, called officers, to manage the affairs of the county and city governments. Of course party organization will generally determine the action of the vote and it should do so, for the existence of two parties makes each more watchful lest their official acts be exposed and condemned by the people. The candidates are men whose lives are open books, many of whom have been tried in official life and who have not been found wanting. So good servants can and will be selected. Vote for your nominees and you will have discharged a sacred obligation.

The trite saying, "Every dog has his day," is verified by the rise and fall of Nations. None are so powerful that they may not be conquered. The same is true of men. They become powerful in the affairs of State, and by advocating something that is unpopular they are shorn of all power and influence; or it may be that abler and better men defeat them and they are reduced to the ranks of the common people. This inexorable law is as it should be. Men become bigoted, self conceited, corrupt, and claim the earth and a handful of stars if you give them unlimited power and a long tenure of office.

Investigation seems to be in order, in high governmental departments and among all corporations. This is altogether proper and is sure to result in good. Why not examine all corporations as often as banks are examined? Honest people will not object, and thieves should be watched. Let the wave of reform roll on until all errors are corrected, and all unsound limbs are amputated, and an era of prosperity and thrift will follow, even greater than we now enjoy.

The people should demand the passage of a law, by Congress, putting certain restrictions on Foreign Immigration. If this is not done, before many years, the reigns of government will pass into the hands of foreigners, who will run it according to foreign principles and methods.

All political parties in Moscow have agreed to establish an independent government irrespective of imperial authority. This is another step toward reform and the destruction of absolute monarchy.

It is hoped that party prejudice will not run so high next Tuesday as to bring about trouble. Let each candidate and his friends resolve to submit cheerfully to the result whatever it may be.

Since the yellow fever visitation has practically ended, steps are being taken to adopt measures which will forever bar the plague. If this can be done it will be worth millions to the South.

Some say that love is not eternal, but the following syllogism disproves the statement; God is love; God is eternal; therefore love is eternal. We mean true, real, unadulterated love.

Those who want to know how others vote, and who want the world to know how they vote, should vote for the Constitutional Amendment returning to the viva voce system.

Secretary Taft estimates that the war department will require $204,000, 000 for expenses in 1907.

There are 537,000 miles of railroads in the world, of which 270,000 are in America.

HE WANTED A LARGE WORD

Man Prayed at Revival That the King Be Annihilated—Realizes Mistake.

Many years ago, in the tens or twenties of the last century, there was a revival at the Congregational chapel in Penzance, Cornwall. The pastor, John Foxell, was a famous minister in his day. On the occasion referred to a revival had been going on for some time. Various converts were allowed to have their say.

One Sunday the usual sermon gave way to short prayers and singing. One convert, a well-meaning, but not too well educated man, burst forth in prayer and, among other remarks, he appealed to the Lord to "annihilate" the king.

This caused no little surprise to the loyal section of the somewhat "clerical" congregation. Some were uneasy, and the pastor, at the conclusion of the service, quietly called the speaker aside and asked him why he was so reckless as to use such republican language on such a serious occasion. The poor fellow seemed puzzled and dazed; he did not know that he had said anything out of the way.

"What on earth did you want to annihilate the king for?" asked the pastor.

"Well, why not, if it were for his good?" replied the man.

"Perhaps you do not know the exact meaning of the word, 'annihilate,'" retorted Mr. Foxell, kindly.

"I admit I do not," remarked the convert, "but I happened to come across the word a few days ago, and it looked to me a good and important word, and I thought the best words should always be reserved for the king, and when I was praying and put in a word for his safety I thought it a good, grand and swinging word to use in his behalf; but I did not want to get rid of his majesty."

HUMMING BIRD FANS YOUNG

Feathered Mother Keeps Up Quivering Motion to Protect Weak Creatures from Heat.

William Lovell Finley, the new naturalist-photographer, writes as follows in the Country Calendar:

"The way a humming bird mother would alight on her nest was a marvel to me. She always stopped on the dead twig of a maple before dropping to her home. I saw her do it several times. She came at a nest like a meteoric streak. I held my breath lest the whole thing be splintered to atoms, for she hit the little cup without the slightest pause that I could see. But, when she alighted, it put to shame the touch of floating thistle-down.

"When the nestlings were very young, the mother never left them alone long at a time. If the day was warm, if the sun shone on the nest, the mother hovered over with wings and tail spread wide. When it was hottest, I have seen the mother sit forward on the nest edge spread her tail till she showed the white tips of her feathers, and keep up a constant quivering, fanning motion with her wings and tail to give protection to the frail midgets in the nest."

CENTENARIAN IS A TEACHER

Manuel Garcia at Age of One Hundred Is Still Enlightening Britishers in Music.

Manuel Garcia, one of the most remarkable men in the world, has recently sat for his portrait to John S. Sargent. Garcia is a Spanish singer who visited the United States in 1855 with an opera company, and sang in various parts of the country. The famous singer, Madame Malibran, was his sister. He returned to Europe and taught Jenny Lind in Paris, and for the past 50 years or thereabouts has been a music teacher in London. He was 100 years old on March 17 and is still teaching. He was a professor of music in the British Royal Academy of Music until he was 90, when he retired to receive pupils privately. It is believed that the portrait which Sargent has painted is the only one of a centenarian in existence, and Garcia himself is probably the only person who ever taught singing in his hundredth year.

A Soapy Lake.

Some interesting items may at times be unearthed from the consular reports. For example, there is a description of a soapy lake in the annual statement of the trade and commerce of Nicaragua. This sheet of water, the Lake of Nejapa, contains a strong solution of bicarbonate of potash, bicarbonate of soda and sulphate of magnesia. "This water, when rubbed on any greasy object, at once forms a lather." The report says it is used as a hair wash, and enjoys a local reputation as a cure for external and internal complaints. The Nicaraguans are not conspicuous for commercial enterprise, but during the year they managed to export "four demijohns" of this wonderful water to the neighboring Guatemala.

Rattlesnake Weed.

In California there grows a plant called the rattlesnake weed. It gets its name from the story that when rattlesnakes fight and bite each other, this weed, if eaten by them, will prevent death. The plant grows about six inches tall, and has a red stalk and slender leaves. On the top of the stalk there is a head of flowers, and the seeds of these flowers are furnished with sharp barbs, called stickers. The early settlers always made their herdsmen carry a bottle of strong tea made of rattlesnake weed, and when one of the sheep was bitten it was drenched with this fluid. The treatment was said to be effective.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will on

TUESDAY, November 14, 1905

at the residence of the late John W Dunn, in Garrard county, Ky, about one mile north of Brantonsville, on the Lexington Turnpike, I, as administrator with the will annexed, will sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder, the following real and personal property, of the late John W Dunn, deceased: to-wit: 3 brood mares, 2 good three-year old horses by Dignity Dare, 1 yearling filly, 2 Jersey cows, farming implements, consisting of harrows, wagons, plow gear, buggy, buck board and one-half interest in new wheat fan. Also one half interest in about nine acres of tobacco to be stripped out and same to be received at the barn in the hand, and about 100 bbls of corn, snapped shucked.

The farm contains about 140 acres more or less (to be surveyed) and is situated about 3 miles N. E. of Brantonsville, Ky., about one half mile from the Mt Hebron Turnpike and is only about one mile from school, church store and post office. There is upon the land a small dwelling house, large tobacco barn that will house about 8 acres of tobacco. The farm is under good fence, and in the very highest state of cultivation, and is one of the most fertile and productive hill farms in Garrard county, especially adapted to the raising of corn, hemp and tobacco. Bear in mind that this is an abso, lute sale. For further information, write G T Higginbotham, adm'r, Danville, or see J E Robinson, Lancaster, my attorney.

Terms. The land will be sold as follows: One third of the purchase price to be paid, cash and the remainder in two equal payments, due in one and two years from first day of January, 1906 with interest at 6 per cent from date until paid, with a lien retained upon the land to secure the payment of the notes.

All sum for personal property under $10 cash, all sums over $10, note without interest, with approved surety, due January 1st, 1906. Sale will begin promptly at 10 o'clock.

G. T. HIGGINBOTHAM, Adm'r with the will annexed of John W Dunn, dec'd.

J E Robinson, Att'y.

TOO RICH AND RECKLESS.

Butler Gives Reason Why Wealthy People's Servants Go the Wrong Road.

"You see, sir," began the old butler, according to Everybody's Magazine, "my son took service with Mr. Lingard. As honest and well-meaning a young man he was as ever lived when he started, and that's why I want to speak out now and tell you gentlemenfolk that it ain't altogether a servant's fault when he goes wrong. You don't mean it, but you're careless in your talk, and it's all heard and repeated and set store by in a way you'd hardly believe. Your fathers and mothers, gentlemen and ladies, they were different, and looked after their servants and their houses different. But you don't care what we are like if things run smooth and give you no trouble. The tradesmen, maybe, bid to the butler and cook for your custom, and the higher the bills are the better it is for them both, and half the time you don't take no notice, and it gets kind of easy to pick up things in little ways. Everybody's too rich and too reckless and that's the whole trouble. What do these young men that's waiting on the table hear talked about all the time? Why, money, and how much you can get with it, and how mean you look without it. That's not just what you say, but that's how they hear it. They see extravagance all round them, and hear it talked all the time, and they go and do the same. If you boast of how much you've made playing cards and betting on the races, why they'll think it's a grand thing to do, and they'll do it once too often and be caught like my poor boy. I ain't defending William, but if you will excuse me, you stole his conscience, sir, before he stole your silver. You'll get back your property, but he'll never get back what he's lost—and if you send him to prison, he'll come out worse than he went in. He was a good lad when he went to you, but you do keep a rather fast house, sir, and it's hard for an ignorant man to see higher than his betters. If you'd give him a chance—if you'd let him off—"

CHINA A POULTRY COUNTRY

Farmers of the Orient Handle Enormous Consignments of Eggs at One Time.

The keenest of poultry farmers is, as Mr. Chamberlain once said of himself in another connection, "a child in these matters" as compared with the poultry farmers of China. A traveler passing through the province of Chekiang a few weeks ago was struck with the enormous number of young chickens carried in the farmers' carts he met in the T'ing-tai country. He made inquiries on the subject, and at length he was asked by a poultry farmer to go and inspect his rearing arrangements. The plant deals with 10,000 eggs at a time and the average product is 5,000 chicks. The arrangements are simple and inexpensive, but they include opportunities for the scientific examination of the eggs in the course of incubation, and it is amusing to hear that where the eggs on examination through the testing holes do not show signs of fertilization at the end of the fourth day, "they are immediately discarded to be sold cheap."

FISH BANK IS INTERESTING

Discovered Four Hundred Years Ago by Cabot, St. John's Is Base of World Industry.

St. John's is a place teeming with interest. It is over 400 years old, having been discovered by Cabot in 1497 and settled by Devon fishermen a few years later, since when it has been always the base for the world's greatest fishing industry, that for "cod on the coast," says P. T. McGrath, in Four-Track News. In its harbor will be found argosies from France, Spain, Portugal, New England and Nova Scotia, all engaged in reaping the harvest from the ocean, while the British industry was permanently transferred there as the colony, the oldest in the empire, became settled. Along the water front, on each side of the spacious land-locked harbor, which opens through a gap in the beetling cliffs, are stores and warehouses filled with cod, while at every wharf steamers and sailers are loading this staple commodity for transport to the markets of the world.

Craze of the "Improver."

One of the employees of a small manufacturing concern in Gotham, says the New York Sun, has a craze for taking apart new bits of machinery and seeing the "how" of their operation. As a rule, he assembles them again without much difficulty. The other day, however, he was taking down a small electric motor. He overhauled it and laboriously put it together and then gravely announced that the blamed thing won't run. His employer and the rest of the force worked for the better part of the day in a vain attempt to get the motor to work, and then began to quiz the "improver," as he is known. "What did it do to it?" he replied. "I didn't do a blame thing to it but improve it. I got it all together again the first try, and saved these two pieces out of it."

His Weather Eye.

"Now," said the employer, "you will have to keep your weather eye on our competitors."

"I'm afraid I can't," answered the new man. "My weather eye has been poked out by an umbrella rib."—Judge.

The Waterloo of Wealth.

"You have succeeded in everything you have undertaken."

"Yes," answered Mr. Dustin Star, "but I haven't yet tried to give any large sums of money to a church."—Washington Star.

THE PICK

Of the world is the American laborer, who wants nothing more than a fair wage for a fair day's work. His only trouble is when he cannot work every day and all day, and that is the trouble he experiences when he becomes run-down and debilitated. He loses flesh. He loses strength. He has also to lose time, because he cannot work as he used to do.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery gives new vigor and strength to worn-out, run-down men and women. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies the blood and puts the body on the sure footing of sound health.

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. O. Beers, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors, but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and of which you know nothing.

Billousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills.

FARM AND GARDEN

A GOOD CISTERN PLAN.

Arrangement by Which the Water Supply Is Kept Free from Dirt and Cistern More Easily Cleaned.

I have had a cistern like the one shown in the cut for 14 years and have always had an unfailing supply of good water. It gives advantages over the single form of cistern. The smaller, or receiving cistern, shown at right of cut, takes the water from the roof first, and the larger, or main cistern, shown at left, takes the water from the bottom. The water may be then turned into the larger, or main cistern, by opening valve in connecting pipe, c. by the rod, d. The end of this pipe, a. is placed about one foot from the bottom of the receiving cistern, to prevent drawing the sediment into the larger cistern. The check, c. may be any good gate valve to which the rod, d. is attached for opening and closing.

I find it much easier to clean a small cistern six feet deep than a large one, says a writer in Farm and Home. This small one may be emptied into the main cistern at any time and cleaned, even when the storage cistern is half full.

To prevent possibility of checking or cracking in the cement, allowing leaks in the side of either cistern where connecting pipe goes through, walls should be reinforced, as shown, with cement on the inside. The small cistern can be placed at any reasonable distance from the main cistern. With this arrangement it is not necessary to allow the roof first to wash off before turning in the water, thus losing what is often the greater part of the rainfall.

HOW CROPS WERE DOUBLED

Report of Consul Frank W. Mahin of What Was Accomplished on Poor English Land.

Consul Frank W. Mahin, of Nottingham, England, makes the following report on experiments recently made in England, showing what liberal fertilizing will do with naturally poor land in the way of increasing yields:

"Experiments carried out during the past season in this country demonstrate what liberal fertilizing may do with naturally poor clay land. In one case a mangold field was divided into five plots, one of which was left unmanured for comparison, while the others received 48 pounds per acre of superphosphate, with and without nitrogenous manure. The unmanured plot gave 12 1/2 tons of roots per acre. Superphosphate alone raised this yield to 20 1/2 tons; superphosphate and 22 1/2 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre raised the yield to 27 1/2 tons; superphosphate and 44 pounds of nitrate raised it to 34 tons, and superphosphate and 67 1/2 pounds of nitrate raised it to 39 tons.

"The respective increases due to manuring on the four fertilized plots were, therefore, in round figures, 7, 14, 21 and 26 tons per acre, and, if the cost of the fertilizers be taken into account, the average cost of the increase in roots was less than 73 cents per ton—considered a very cheap price to pay for manure in a season not especially favorable to their growth. The board of agriculture estimates the mangold crop of the country for 1904 at 18 1/2 tons per acre. The yield of the best plot referred to, 39 tons per acre, was therefore double the average.

"An experimental oat crop followed a crop of roots. Without manure the yield was 27 bushels of oats and 1,904 pounds of straw per acre. With 336 pounds of superphosphate per acre the yield was 34 bushels of oats and 2,350 pounds of straw, and with superphosphate and 112 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre 41 bushels of oats and 2,688 pounds of straw; while superphosphate with 224 pounds of nitrate, applied in two dressings, gave 47 bushels of oats and 3,136 pounds of straw. In each case the increase in grain and straw is taken as worth, roughly, twice the cost of the fertilizers employed in producing it.

"The board of agriculture's estimates of a normal oat crop indicate that the yield of 47 bushels per acre is at least ten bushels beyond the average from ordinary soil."

Stronger Than Steel.
A new metal alloy, "radium argenteum," has been discovered by two Tuscan engineers. It is composed of copper, iron and small quantities of silver, radium and phosphorus. It is claimed to be of greater strength than steel, to be a better conductor than copper, to be nonoxidizable and cheap to manufacture. Its cost being about one-tenth that of bronze when made in large quantities. Its discovery is particularly interesting inasmuch as it was largely an accident. After spending nearly $20,000 in experiments, one of the inventors happened to throw a two shilling piece into the crucible. The coin supplied the ingredients needed to the proper fusion of the particles and the alloy resulted.

Signs of a Sikh.
Gen. Gordon, a British officer who has written a book on the sikhs, the celebrated fighters of India, says that the signs by which you may know a sikh are these: He never cuts his hair, but wears his beard looped up over his ears; he never smokes or touches tobacco, because that is the privilege of the Mohammedan, but he is allowed to drink spirits and is a great consumer of opium. Finally, he must have about his person five K's, which Gen. Gordon thus enumerates: Kees (long hair or beard; knug (comb), to secure the hair tied up in a knot on top of the head; kachee (breeches reaching to the knee); kard (knife), and kirpan (sword).

How Names Are Made.
The teacher was trying to make out the name of the new pupil, a shiny little negro boy.

"Joseph what?" she said.
"Joseph Prokips Juice, me'em."
"Joseph Prokips Juice!" repeated the teacher, wondering.
A hand shot up from the other side of the room and a voice piped out:
"Please, teacher. It's Joseph the Prophet, King of the Jews Tompkins, and he lives in our block. He can't talk plain yet."—Town Topics.

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest.

You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures.

August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way.

HOWE'S TORICOID GLASSES

"TORICOID GLASSES" are spectacle and eye-glass lenses ground in a peculiar manner, so as to give a much larger, clearer field of vision than any other glasses and a sense of freedom and comfort to the wearer that no other glasses afford, and which can be appreciated only by those who have tried them.

They are without question, the most scientifically constructed glasses that have ever been made, and when made into BIFOCALS (near-sighted and far-sighted glasses combined) can be worn with much comfort as single-lens glasses. This cannot truthfully be said of any other form of Bifocal Glasses.

"TORICOID GLASSES" are made only by T. J. Howe & Co., Louisville, Ky., and are sold by them and their authorized agents under a positive guarantee that if they do not give satisfaction in every respect they may be returned, and the money paid for them will be refunded. If you have any trouble with your eyes, or if your glasses have not given you perfect comfort and satisfaction in every way, write to us about "TORICOID GLASSES"—mentioning this paper.

A New Treatment

For the pores of the skin which beautifies the complexion.

Many people, especially ladies, are annoyed with dry, scaly skin, black heads, pimples and blotches. Such ailments are generally treated with cold cream, face lotions, which have temporary relief, if any. The trouble exists in the inactivity of the pores of the skin. If the pores are healthy and perform their duties properly the complexion will be good, unless the person is suffering from some chronic blood trouble.

A Louisville chemist has succeeded in perfecting a product known as Paracamp, which, when applied to the face and hands or any part of the body, opens the pores, removes all unnatural obstructions by stimulating the circulation and inducing perspiration. Paracamp sweats out the trouble. It washes out the pores of the skin, makes them healthy and active, thereby giving a smooth, rosy, satin finish to the skin. This new preparation is being used very largely by complexion specialists with the greatest success, and is highly endorsed by all physicians, owing to the fact that it is pure and harmless. Paracamp can be purchased at any first-class drug store, or if your dealer does not keep it, order direct from the factory. The price is within the reach of all. Sold only in 25c, 50c and 1.00 bottles. Manufactured only by the Paracamp Company, Louisville, Ky.

Friendly Warning

No Need to be Alarmed About Stomach Troubles if you use Mi-o-na—Cure Guaranteed by R. E. McRoberts

The most frequent affection of the stomach is catarrh, as the delicate membrane which lines the stomach is easily irritated by harmful food or overeating. Keep a strict watch for the first symptoms of stomach trouble. Take this friendly warning in the spirit in which it is given and profit by it.

Shortness of breath, black specks before the eyes, furred tongue, dizziness, belching of gases or sour food, weakness and debility are all signs of catarrh of the stomach. There is no need to be unduly alarmed, for this

Stubborn Coughs and Colds CURED BY FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

Obstinate, racking Coughs that make your head ache, your throat and lungs sore and inflamed, that rob you of sleep until your system becomes so run down that you are in grave danger of Pneumonia or Consumption, are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, allays the feverish conditions, stops the cough and prevents serious results from a cold.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

is the only prominent cough medicine on the market that does not contain opiates or harmful drugs of any kind and on this account is safest for children.

It is unequalled for Croup and Whooping Cough and will quickly cure the racking cough which follows measles and leaves so many children with weak lungs unless properly treated.

Remember the name—Foley's Honey and Tar—and refuse substitutes that cost you the same as the genuine. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation.

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champlagn, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar; it cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00.

The 50 cent size contains two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much.
